Lobero LIVE presents

HOT TUNA ACOUSTIC

Friday, February 17 at the Lobero Theatre

- Back by Popular Demand!
- Jefferson Airplane members continue an acoustic exploration of their blues, bluegrass, and folk influences

Santa Barbara, CA, January 13, 2017 – Lobero LIVE welcomes Hot Tuna back to the Lobero Stage on Friday, February 17. From their days playing together as teenagers to their current acoustic and electric blues, probably no one has more consistently led American music for the last 50 years than Jorma Kaukonen and Jack Casady, the founders and continuing core members of Hot Tuna.

Since their days putting together the soundtrack of the 60's in The Jefferson Airplane, Jorma Kaukonen and Jack Casady remain loyal to their blues, jazz, bluegrass, and folk influences in their current acoustic and electric blues. While in San Francisco and even in hotel rooms on the road, they would play together and worked up a set of songs that they would often play at clubs in the Bay Area and while on the road, often after having played a set with the Airplane. This launched on an odyssey, which has itself continued for more than 35 years, always finding new and interesting turns in its path forward.
