PROTECT YOUR EARS featuring Conner Coffin - Director: Jason Baffa - A short film about the importance of protecting your ears while surfing. The film follows Santa Barbara pro surfer, Conner Coffin, on a visit to famed Santa Cruz ear surgeon, Douglas Hetzler, MD and explores the condition of “surfer’s ear”, a bony growth in the ear canal stimulated by exposure to cold water. Produced and directed by Jason Baffa (Chasing Waves DisneyPlus, One California Day, Singlefin: yellow, Bella Vita, Loopers). Featuring water cinematography by Scott Soens.

Waiakea Presents HE’ENALU NO NĀ KAU A KAU | FOREVER SURFING TOGETHER AS ONE - Join the legendary father-daughter duo in the surfing world, Coco Ho and her father, Michael Ho as they ride the waves and inspire us all to chase our dreams, together. Michael Ho, a world-renowned big wave surfer and former Pipeline Masters champion, passed on his passion for surfing to his daughter Coco, who has become one of the most accomplished female surfers in the world. Watch as Coco follows in the footsteps of her father, a surfing icon in his own right. From Hawaii's epic waves to beaches around the world, the Ho family's passion for surfing is truly awe-inspiring. As they share their insights, experiences, and stories from their surfing journey, you will feel inspired to push your own limits and pursue your dreams with relentless passion. So grab your board, hit the beach, and join us on this epic surfing adventure with Coco Ho and Michael Ho!

CYANOTYPING WITH ORIANA POINDEXTER - Director: Lindsay Bauman - Running Time: 4:37 - Learn how to make cyanotypes, one of the oldest forms of photographic prints, with Oriana Poindexter, a surfer, scientist, free diver, marine conservationist, and artist based in San Diego, CA. She hopes to inspire new ocean enthusiasts and conservationists through her kelp art.

BLACK LIKE PLASTIC - Director: Graciela Cabello & Chris Ragland - Running Time: 9:41 Drawing parallels between Black people in nature, and plastic in the environment, this short touches on the Black experience outdoors. The film is shot in Santa Barbara, created by locals, featuring a cast from the community.

SENDU featuring Parker Coffin – Running Time: 5:27 - 7 years after a near-death experience at Kandui which left him unconscious and bleeding from multiple parts of his body, Parker Coffin is determined not to let big-wave anxiety get the better of him. While on the surface, this looks like a typical North Shore edit, it is really a story of overcoming the mental demons required to tackle the world's deadliest wave.
