Santa Barbara, September 12, 2023 – The sensational tango musical Volver by Tango Lovers returns to US stages this fall, featuring one of the most renowned tango singers of contemporary times, Guillermo Fernandez. The extraordinary cast and orchestra, directed by GRAMMY® and Latin GRAMMY® Award-winner Lautaro Greco, make Volver by Tango Lovers a unique performance, gathering top talent from Rio de la Plata.

Awarded as Best Show and Best Production of the Year multiple times, Tango Lovers Company made its comeback with Volver, mesmerizing audiences across America. This year, beginning October 6, the company will be performing again in Chicago, New York, Washington DC, Miami, San Francisco – and also in cities that have not yet experienced this new production, such as Baltimore, Kiawah in South Carolina, Dallas, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, and Orlando.

Volver by Tango Lovers is the story of tango dancers, musicians, and singers who travel the world together with the tango genre, then return to their place of origin to transmit endless stories through different characters which take center stage during the show. Volver, an iconic tango piece from the vast repertory of Carlos Gardel, is a meaningful title for many reasons. The show pays tribute to those places and people that marked the history of the company and its return to the stages after difficult times for humanity.

Volver by Tango Lovers was created by the Uruguayan singer and producer Alfredo Lerida, who gave a distinctive imprint to the genre, opening it up to all generations and cultures. Volver is staged by a live orchestra, dancers, and singers from Argentina and Uruguay, who will make you live the passion and sensuality of tango for an experience you will never forget.
