The Santa Barbara Centre for Aerial Dance returns to the Lobero Theatre for a special Mother's Day performance featuring six dance works that pay tribute to the role and ritual of the Mother archetype.

Inspired and named after each of the principal dancer's mothers, Maman (French for Mommy) weaves aerial apparatus including trapeze, lyra, corde lisse, and aerial fabrics together with contemporary dance and a strings and percussion soundtrack.

VIP ticket holders will be treated to a post-performance tea and cake gala.

Direction and choreography: Ninette Paloma

Soloists: Kara Le, Lydia Lamberth, Mariah Slechter,
Rachna Hailey, and Olivia Moore

Apprentice Youth Company: Rose Reece, Isadora Dektor, Alexandra Williams, Lydia Genuardi, Willa Burluson, and Nastya Piven

Founded in 2006, the Santa Barbara Centre for Aerial Dance has shared their signature approach to the ancient discipline of aerial arts on stages across the U.S. and Europe.
