

Dave Brubeck - A Santa Barbara Legacy

Dave Brubeck first played the Lobero stage in 1953, just four years after forming the renowned Dave Brubeck Quartet. His brother Henry, then head of Santa Barbara High's Music Department, brought his students to see him perform on the Lobero's historic stage. Dave's final Lobero appearance was in 2009. The Brubeck Circle was created in his honor to support jazz education and celebrate his legacy.

Join the Circle

The Brubeck Circle is a tiered annual membership supporting amazing jazz, blues, and roots performances on the Lobero stage.

Membership to the Circle also provides support for our local youth music education programs, creating future jazz musicians and audiences alike.

- The Brubeck Jazz Residency Program along with The Derek Douget Band work on-site with students from local high schools, colleges, and non-profit organizations to mentor and further hone their musical skills. The Residency includes the opportunity to perform offering a professional on-stage experience with state-of-the-art equipment.
- Santa Barbara Vocal Jazz Foundation offers residencies at local elementary schools teaching jazz history and appreciation, culminating in live on-stage performances.
