Jazz at the Lobero presents

Preservation Hall Jazz Band

Thursday, February 19, 2026 at 7:30 PM

Santa Barbara, CA, January 21, 2026 – Jazz at the Lobero presents Preservation Hall Jazz Band on Thursday, February 19, 2026 at 7:30 PM. At a moment when musical streams are crossing with unprecedented frequency, it's crucial to remember that throughout its history, New Orleans has been the point at which sounds and cultures from around the world converge, mingle, and resurface, transformed by the Crescent City's inimitable spirit and joie de vivre. Nowhere is that idea more vividly embodied than in the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, which has held the torch of New Orleans music aloft for more than 60 years – all the while carrying it enthusiastically forward as a reminder that the history they were founded to preserve is a vibrantly living history. A Brubeck Circle show.

"The past and promise of American Music ..." – Rolling Stone Magazine

"Return to the roots of jazz, America's great indigenous art form, and don't miss an opportunity for a performance by the 'best jazz band in the land.'" – San Francisco Examiner

Founded in New Orleans by tuba player Allan Jaffe in the early 60s, PHJB derives its name from Preservation Hall in the French Quarter. The band has toured with singer Josh Groban and has shared the stage with numerous renowned musicians, such as Stevie Wonder, Elvis Costello, The Grateful Dead, and countless others. Today, it is led by Allan's son, Ben Jaffe. While traditional New Orleans jazz repertoire remains their core focus, they've transformed into a vibrantly cross-pollinated ambassador for New Orleans – exploring original compositions, Afro-Cuban rhythms, R&B influences, and collaborating with artists beyond the jazz spectrum.

Their mission remains focused on initiating audiences into the ineffable, almost religious experience of channeling their ancestors through the music and culture they've inherited from them. Band members include Ben Jaffe (upright bass, tuba), Branden Lewis (trumpet, vocals), Clint Maydgen (saxophone, vocals), Revon Andrews (trombone, vocals), Kyle Roussel (piano), Jafet Perez (batista, drums). Preservation Hall Jazz Band has featured a long cadre of legendary musicians over the years and issued several albums – all of which showcase the group's rootsy, soulful brand of traditional New Orleans jazz.
